Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Puckett et al., U.S. Patent No. 6425551 B1.

With respect to claims 1 and 4-6, Puckett '551 shows a tubular body having open ends (24, 26) and including an annular outer surface (20) for receiving the sheet roll (16);

An annular inner surface (22) defining a bore for receiving the spindle (12); circumferentially spaced apart splines (28) projecting radially inward from the inner surface and extending axially between the open ends for nesting in correspond slots (30) in the spindle, at least one spline having a spline stop (34) at one end for frictionally engaging the spindle to retain the core axially; and a set of ribs (near 36) projecting radially inward from the inner surface near the one end and extending between the axial splines fro axially limiting assembly of the core onto the spindle, see figures 1-2.

With respect to claims 2-3, Puckett '511 shows the spline stop (34) is a bevel formed on the end of the spline, see figures 6-7.

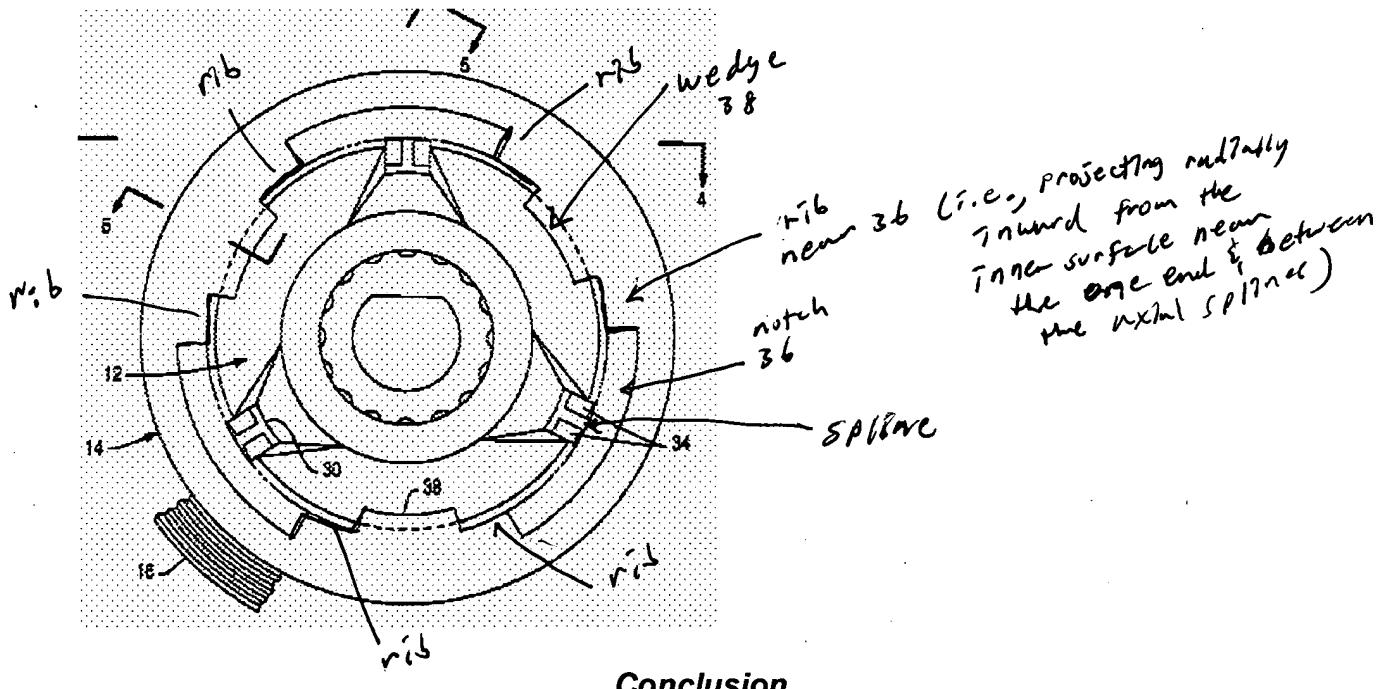

With respect to claims 7-8, Puckett '511 shows three splines and spaced apart by about 120 degrees, see figure 1.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 5/24/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive with respect to claims 1-8.

Applicant argues that Puckett '551 does not teach "a set of ribs projecting radially inward from the inner surface near the one end and extending between the axial splines."

Puckett '551 does teach "a set of ribs projecting radially inward from the inner surface near the one end and extending between the axial splines," as illustrated below:

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
